A message from Jeffrey Tucker, President

It's extremely gratifying for me to have been able to preside over the Greater Marlboro Programs Board of Directors over the previous year. Fiscal 2007 was a significant achievement and transformation for the agency and I'd like to highlight a few of the accomplishments we are most proud of.

First, we were able to secure and acclimate a very competent, energetic, and experienced Executive Director with the addition of Carol Manne to our management team. Carol's influence over both the day to day operation of the agency and the long-term direction of the agency have grown exponentially with each passing month. Her leadership and insistence on excellence has been a very well received windfall for the board and the entire staff.

We made a decision to completely outsource our Accounting function and leverage the experience of Non-Profit Capital Management, a Boston based firm. The operational cost savings and boost to our outlook in furthering our partnerships with state agencies has been extremely encouraging.

We continued to build on our reputation and presence within the Marlborough community by adding several board members with a variety of professional backgrounds. Also we held a well attended Executive Leadership breakfast to make sure corporate leaders in the area know our mission. Plus we celebrated the relationships of our extended family by reviving our annual summer outing.

The most exciting news is that as the fiscal year grew to a close in June and in the few months since, we are realizing one of the strongest financial positions in the history of Greater Marlboro Programs. It's our hope that in the coming months all the stakeholders to GMPI's success will appreciate our commitment to reinvest these dividends back into the extraordinary individuals we serve and our loyal employees.

At our core, Greater Marlboro Programs has always existed to embody our new tagline "Helping People Help Themselves", but our mission will continually evolve to meet the needs of our existing clients and identify new opportunities to ensure healthy growth in the future. In the year ahead-and the years to come-we expect to measure our success in our longevity and success stories in all the lives we have positively touched.

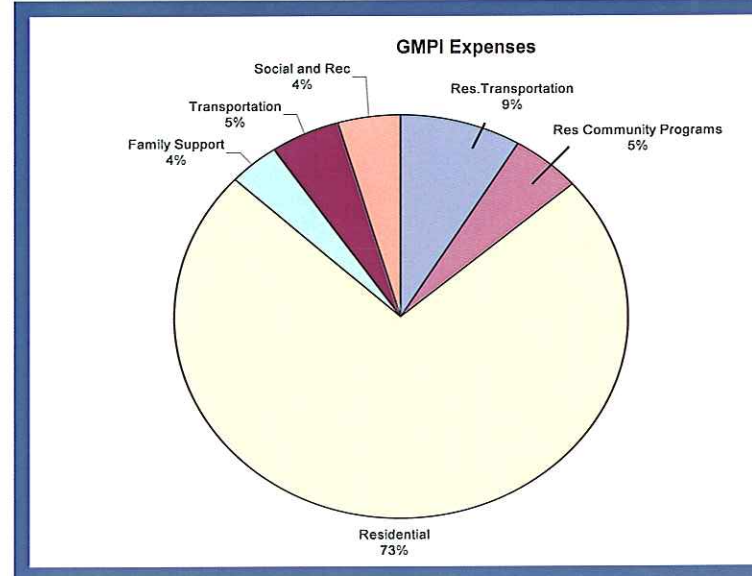

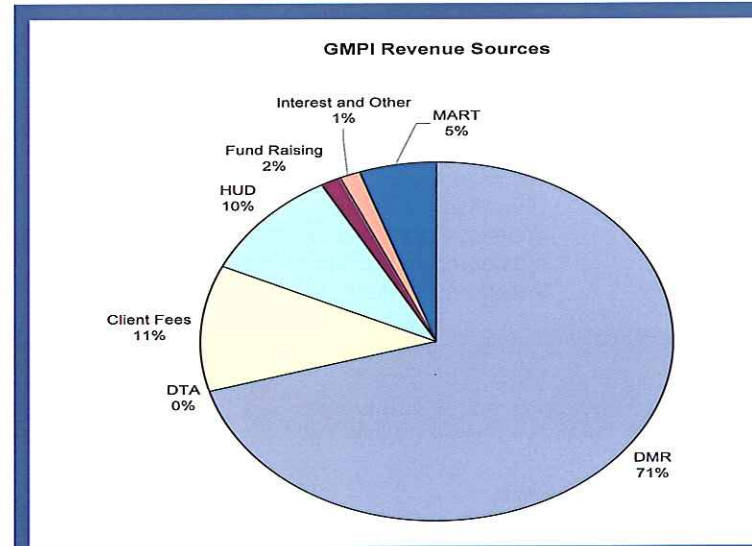

I sincerely appreciate all of the care and support that surrounds our agency. The entire management team is always open to hearing from anyone who has feedback about our work and how we can be an agency you can be even more proud of.

Jeffrey D. Tucker
